Suzy went into a large supermarket to buy some milk and cheese. While she was looking at the shelves, she suddenly heard an old lady shout loudly, "Stop! Thief!"

Suzy turned around and saw a tall man with fair, curly hair running quickly towards the exit. In his hand, he was holding a red bag. Everyone in the supermarket was staring at him, but nobody tried to stop him. Suzy felt nervous, but she decided she had to help. She quickly put her shopping basket on the floor in front of the man. He didn't see it, tripped over the basket, and fell.

A police officer who was nearby ran over and caught the thief. He took the red bag and gave it back to the old lady, who thanked Suzy many times. That evening, Suzy saw herself on the television news. Both the police officer and the old lady said she was very brave. Suzy felt proud and happy.

It is fun to think about how technology will be different in the future. Maybe schools will have more computer lessons or robots to help students... Do you have a phone? What do you use it for? What new technology would you like to have at home? Why?
